Red Hat Enterprise Linux Server - reporting error -bash: fork: Cannot allocate memory

Table of contents

Issue

fork: Cannot allocate memory

Event Codes : -bash: fork: Cannot allocate memory

Environment

- Red Hat Enterprise Linux (RHEL)

Resolution

-Increase /proc/sys/kernel/pid_max sysctl.

-Alternatively execute the command "ps -eLf" in order to check which application is forking so many threads.